

Project Architect Job Opening – Anchorage, AK

Architects Alaska is seeking qualified applicants for our next Project Architect Design Professional in our Anchorage, Alaska office! The successful candidate will have a minimum of 5 years of experience on a broad range of market sector building types and work experience with the complete range of architectural services - from programming through all phases of design services, construction administration, and project close-out. The candidate must have excellent communication skills, be highly organized, technically proficient, and knowledgeable of building codes and industry standards while having a solid understanding of building systems and components. Our firm fosters a collaborative environment; working as a team player is critical to success. The position requires effective oral and written communication with clients, stakeholders, and design team members. The candidate should have excellent visual representation skills to convey design concepts via loose and refined design sketches and produced drawings, which is highly desirable. You will participate in all design stages, helping to lead the design team through developing contract documents and following through with construction administrative services. The candidate must coordinate with consultants, write specifications and technical documents, and provide project assistance to the Project Manager and Principal Architect.

The ideal candidate should possess the ability to view the challenges and opportunities that arise from Alaska's diverse, sometimes extreme, and evolving environment - synthesizing a thoughtful, creative, and informed design response that exemplifies design excellence. Above all, the successful candidate understands the importance of integrity and respect throughout all aspects of professional service and client care.

This full-time, long-term position offers a casual, collaborative work environment, a variety of responsibilities, a great potential for knowledge gain, and professional growth with competitive pay and benefits.
